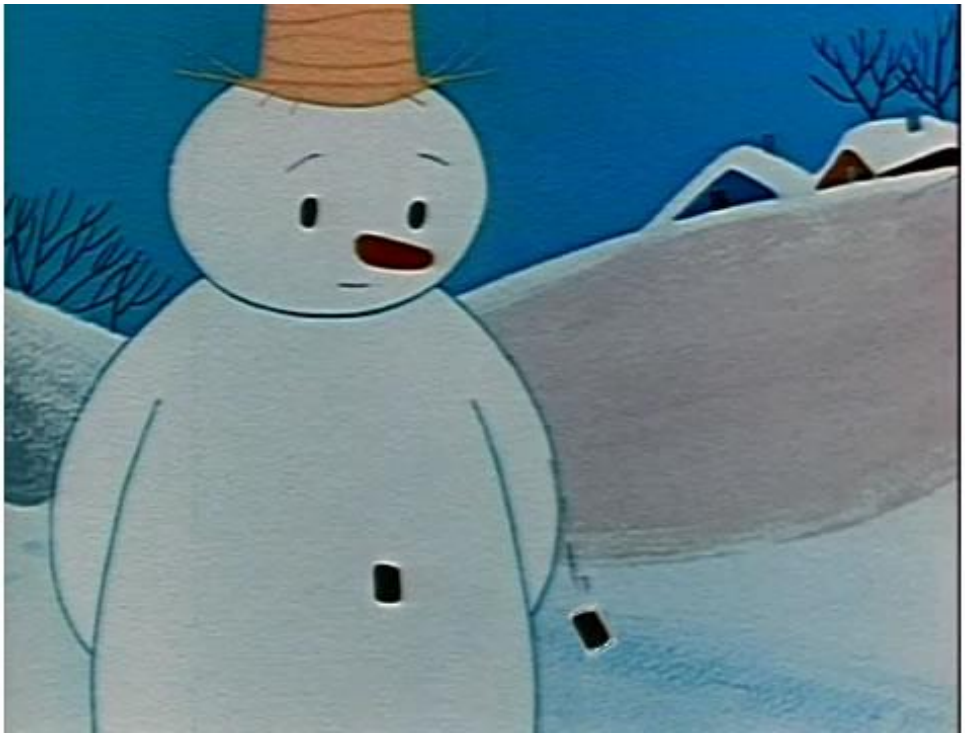
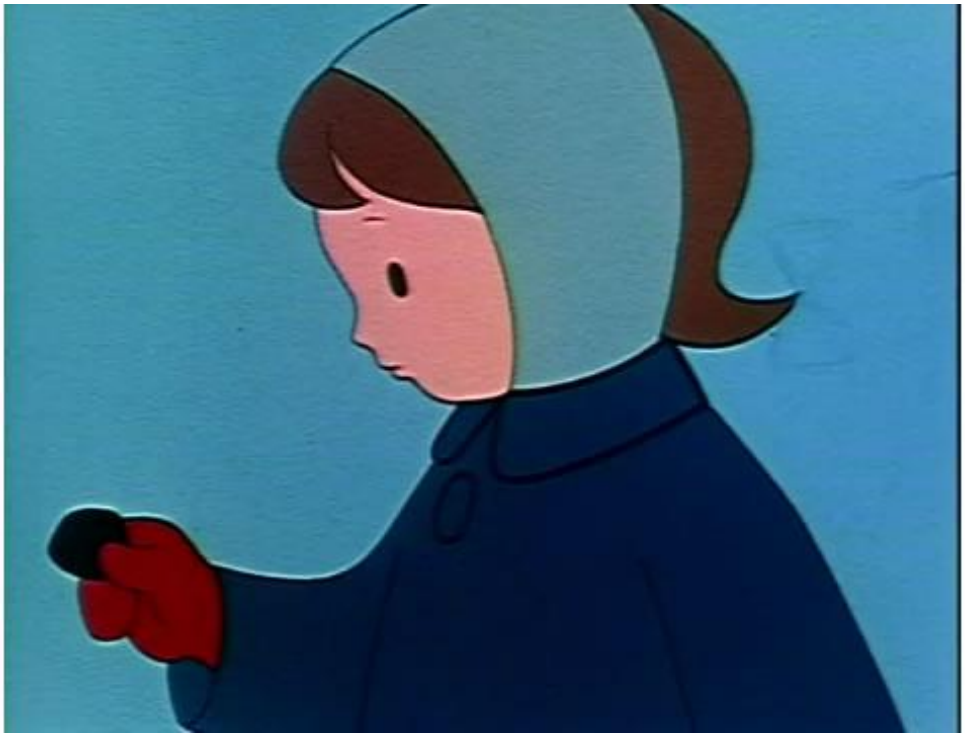
The magic snowman

One winter there was a magic snowman.

He met a young girl and her dog.

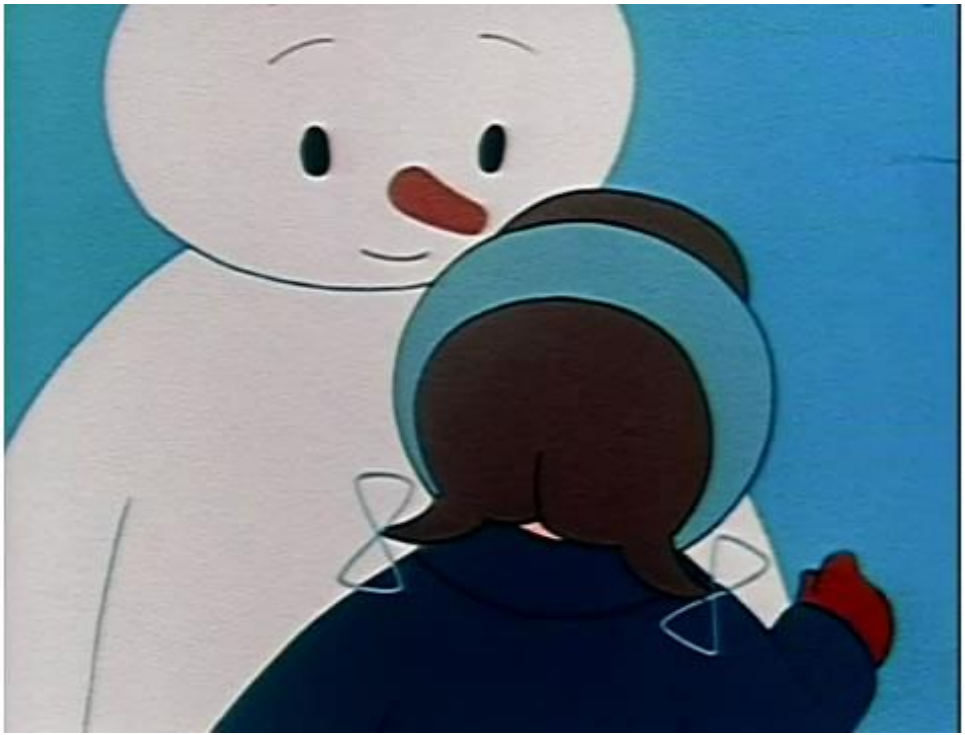


A button fell off the snowman.



The girl was kind. She picked up the button.

And she put it back on the snowman



The snowman smiled.

The girl said goodbye.

And went to play on her sled.

That night when the little girl and her dog were sleeping the snowman painted a beautiful picture on her window with frost.

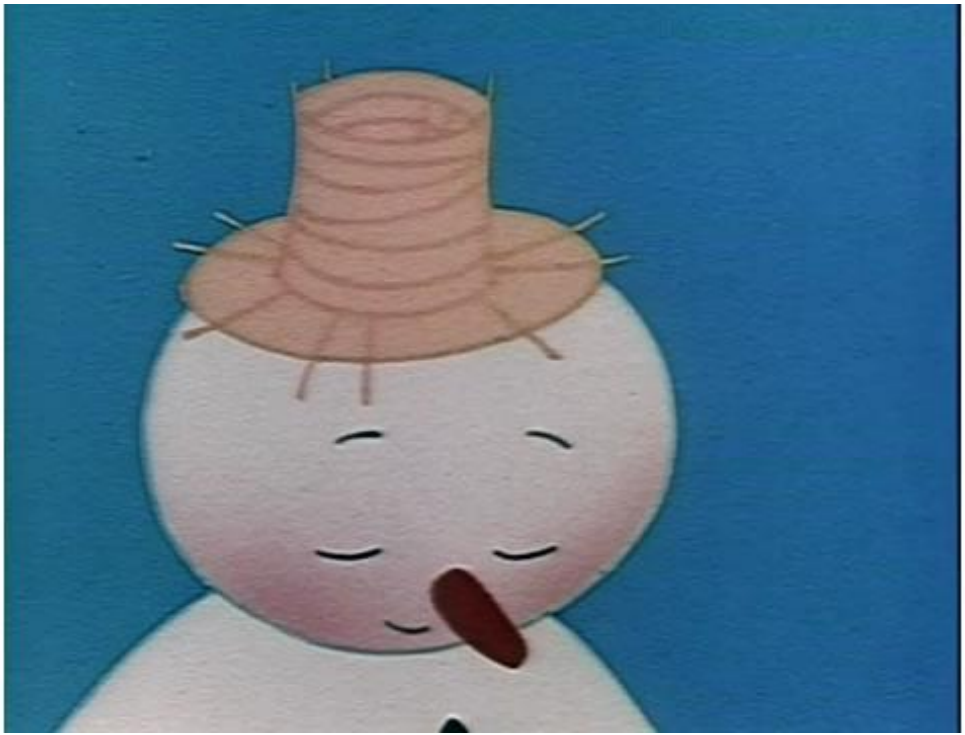
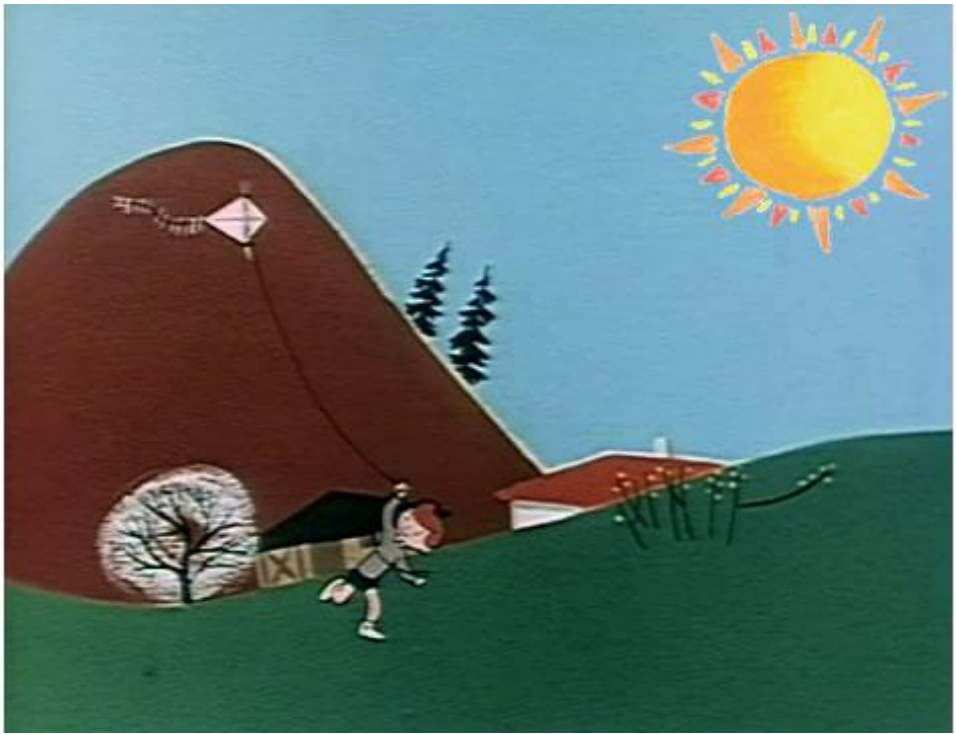
The next day the girl said "Thank you Mister Snowman, the picture is beautiful".



The snowman blushed.

Soon the hot sun melted the snow. It was now spring.

But the snowman did not melt.



Soon it was summer and very hot.

Finally, the magic snowman began to melt. The sun was too hot.

As the Snowman melted a beautiful white flower grew where he stood.

The girl loved the flower and visited it everyday. It reminded her of the snowman.
